Assistant/Associate Professor
Health Care Administration
Trinity University
San Antonio, Texas

The graduate program in Health Care Administration at Trinity University invites applications for a tenure-track position, effective August, 2020. Minimum qualifications include a Ph.D. or equivalent degree in health care management, health services research, or related field. Successful candidates will also show evidence of scholarly research productivity.

The department is searching for someone with teaching interests in finance, cost accounting, revenue cycle management, and/or the business of health care. The individual selected will teach two masters-level courses per semester, as well as supervise a set of students in their administrative residencies.

The individual is also expected to engage in scholarly activity in an area in or related to health care management. While Trinity University provides strong institutional support for grant funding, there are no expectations placed on faculty to secure funding.

Faculty members are also expected to actively participate in departmental, university and community activities.

Trinity University is a private, highly selective, primarily liberal arts and sciences institution offering master's degrees in select professional fields. The M.S. program of the Department of Health Care Administration has been continuously accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Management Education (CAHME) since 1968. We have two delivery options for our degree: a full-time on-campus program and a part-time executive program designed for individuals working full-time in health care. Trinity University has an attractive campus, highly qualified students, and outstanding facilities. The successful candidate would be expected to work with other faculty members to help Trinity achieve its strategic plan.

San Antonio, located at the edge of the Texas Hill Country, is an attractive city of almost 1.4 million people offering diverse cultural opportunities and an appealing year-round climate. It is the center of a diversifying and vibrant South Texas economy.

Applicants should send a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, three references, and a sample of written work to Dr. Edward Schumacher, Chair, Department of Health Care Administration, Trinity University, One Trinity Place, San Antonio, Texas 78212-7200 (210-999-8107; e-mail: eschumac@trinity.edu).

For optimal consideration, applications should be received by December 15, 2019. We especially encourage applications from female and minority candidates.
