

CALL FOR PAPERS
PAPER DEVELOPMENT WORKSHOP (PDW)

EXAMINING THE ENTREPRENEURIAL REVOLUTION IN HEALTHCARE

NAPOLI (ITALY), MAY 15, 2023

In order to support the scholars interested in the homonymous call for paper from the International Journal of Entrepreneurship and Behaviour Research (<https://www.emeraldgrouppublishing.com/calls-for-papers/examining-entrepreneurial-revolution-healthcare>), a one-day Paper Development Workshop (PDW) will be held on 15 May 2023.

The aim of this workshop is the discussion and further development of not yet published manuscripts submitted, or to submit, to the above-mentioned call for papers.

We call for submission of short papers (approx. 5 pages) or full papers (10-30 pages). The PDW is open to the entire diversity of topics and phenomena strongly fitting within the scope of the call for papers and is intended for researchers at all career stages. We welcome submissions from doctoral students as well as postdoctoral fellows and professors.

The PDW consists of a plenary session and subsequent roundtables. In the plenary session, we reflect on how to publish healthcare-related topics within the field of entrepreneurship and discuss how to develop competencies with regards to writing and publishing articles in top ENT journals, such as IJEBR. In the roundtable part, participants discuss their contributions intensively in small groups.

Deadline for submission is 15 March 2023. Submissions should be sent to: francesco.schiavone@uniparthenope.it and nvershinina@audencia.com

The submitted contributions can be of conceptual, empirical, or methodological nature. Notification of acceptance is expected by the mid of March.

After being accepted, the participants submit (updated) full papers (10-30 pages) for the PDW by 1 May 2023. All participants are expected to read up to four contributions from other participants and comment on them during the roundtable discussion. By submitting a contribution, submitters also agree to their contribution being made available to other PDW-participants to facilitate an intensive exchange.

Please, consider the attendance to the PDW is not compulsory for the submission to the journal call for papers. Moreover, it does not guarantee the acceptance of the paper to the IJEBR special issue.

The PDW attendance is free of charge.
