TIM Doctoral Research Development Workshop (DRDW) – Call for applications

When: TBD (probably on Aug 9)
How: In-person
Application Deadline: June 10, 2024
Who should apply: We welcome applications from students at any stage of a PhD program. Participation in the doctoral consortium does not prohibit you from participating in this workshop.

Description: This Research Development Workshop (RDW) is designed as an idea-, paper-, and dissertation-development feedback meeting for PhD students interested in technology, innovation, creativity, product development, and related topics. Students may be at any stage of a PhD program, and similarly, the ideas brought to the workshop can range from initial ideas of a paper or dissertation to ideas stemming from a fully developed paper. The workshop will consist of a panel discussion of what makes quality research, as well as extensive time dedicated to round table conversations about submitted research ideas from doctoral students.

Faculty mentors: Mentors include scholars whose research focuses on TIM areas (confirmed list of mentors will be circulated in May). Participation is limited to 30 students.

Application Process: To apply, please visit https://forms.gle/GeeAfWPE6EfJa6cz7 and submit a (i) CV and (ii) an extended abstract (maximum of 3 pages / 1200 words) of your doctoral research.

The organizers of this event are Ying Li and Jungkyu Suh. For any questions, please email the organizers at: ying.li@ust.hk or js13220@stern.nyu.edu.

We look forward to welcoming you to these events!
