

Frankfurt School of Finance & Management is one of Europe's leading business schools, accredited by AACSB, EQUIS and AMBA, and we invite applications for a tenure-track faculty position as

Assistant Professor of Organizational Behaviour – Tenure track

As we continue to grow, we are looking for a colleague who can demonstrate research excellence, regardless of the area of specialization. We explicitly encourage international applications. German language skills are not required at Frankfurt School.

We offer a modern campus facility and a stimulating research environment with attractive research funding and all the opportunities of a vibrant private business school. The Management Department is an international hub for high-end research in strategy and organization. Recent publications include outlets such as Academy of Management Journal, Administrative Science Quarterly, Strategic Management Journal, and Organization Science. For more information please visit <https://www.frankfurt-school.de/en/home/research/departments/management>. The cosmopolitan city of Frankfurt is ranked 7th worldwide in the Mercer "Quality of Living" - Ranking 2019.

The deadline for applications is September 1, 2020. Please submit your application including a CV, three letters of references, three papers (published or unpublished), and a record of teaching experience (taught courses and evaluations) via Interfolio following this link: <http://apply.interfolio.com/76619>. The start date for the position is July/August 2021.

Frankfurt School of Finance & Management values diversity and seeks talented students, faculty, and staff from diverse backgrounds. We are particularly interested in candidates who, through their research, teaching and/or service will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community. The Frankfurt School is an equal opportunities employer. For inquiries about the position, please contact Prof. Claus Rerup (c.rerup@fs.de).