INSPIRING RESEARCH AND INSPIRING SCHOLARS

Join us at the 2022 POS Research Conference to share and advance qualitative and quantitative research in the field of Positive Organizational Scholarship (POS). This biennial gathering of scholars promotes research that inspires and enables leaders to build high-performing organizations that bring out the best in people.

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

Scholars are invited to submit a 1-page, single-spaced abstract of an empirical or theoretical research project for potential presentation at the 2022 POS Research Conference. Abstracts may be selected for presentation in one of the 12 research tracks (oral presentation) or for the visual presentation session (poster session).

The research tracks will be hosted by content curators, all highly-regarded researchers, including: Tianna Barnes, Michelle Barton, Brianna Caza, Brittany K. Lambert, Reut Livne-Tarandach, Dave Mayer, Jessica Methot, Julianna Pillemer, Kristie Rogers, Naomi Rothman, Katina Sawyer, Beth Schinoff, Gretchen Spreitzer, John Paul (JP) Stephens, Michele Williams, Monica Worline, and Kate Zipay.
